

Monday, May 18, 2009, 6:54am PDT

Geodesic buys Interactive Networks

Silicon Valley / San Jose Business Journal

Geodesic Ltd., which focuses on mobile and desktop communication and entertainment, said Monday it acquired Interactive Networks Inc.

Geodesic, which has U.S. headquarters in Santa Clara, did not provide financial terms of the deal.

Montevideo, Uruguay-based Interactive is a software provider for instant messaging and has been in business since 1999.

The acquisition expands Geodesic's global footprint beyond India, Europe, Asia and the U.S. and into South America and Africa. Under terms of the agreement, Interactive Networks becomes a wholly-owned subsidiary of Geodesic.

<http://sanjose.bizjournals.com/sanjose/stories/2009/05/18/daily3.html>